Dear City Councillors,

I am a long-time resident of Cambridge. My understanding is that a resolution will soon be voted on by the City Council about divesting from one or more companies that does business with Israel. I strongly object to that resolution and ask that you vote against such an idea, in whatever form it takes.

There are so many reasons to object that it would take a long message to review them all. One of the strongest arguments, in my view, is that if for whatever reason the Council objects to Israeli policies then what about Turkey, Hungary, Russia, Saudi Arabia and many other nations -- perhaps even Britain for its thoughtless Brexit vote, which will weaken the West? Will the Council divest from companies doing business with all those nations? How about companies doing business with Donald Trump?

Sincerely,

Andrew Zucker
